MONTHLY STATISTICAL REVIEW & to

Twice through the night she received suc-cor, once from her son, who came up and wetted her covering, and once from the barn-master, Bush, who also bathed her head and gave her cool water to drink. Through the whole unepeakable tragedy of piteous cowardice ran this vein of simple wide ashen belt, like a roadway, inclosing an oblong clearing of five acres or more. Profound silence rested in the stagnant air—life seemed never to have had existence in the lonely corner. The smooth, powdery ground isy in alternate stripe of white and red ashes, with here and there black squares where the buildings were, and reminding one horribly of a ghastly chess-board, whose leat game had been between Life and Death, and where Life had been hopelessly checkmated.

Three brothers, Williamsons, owned the The brothers, as proprietors, seem for a time to have been full of calm, brave distribution, and with the full realization of the sudden danger in the first reah of the half as group at his feet, then claim the sudden danger in the first reah of the half as group at his feet, then claim the sudden danger in the first reah of the half as group at his feet, then claim the sudden danger in the first reak of the sudden danger in the first reak of the sudden danger in the first reak of the sudden danger in the su tingos the glaring picture. His awest heart was the relative of the mill owners, Miss Maggie Williamson, a girl, it is said, of rare beauty and attraction. The young follow; bright and cultured beyond his kind, regarded with favor and affection for many a mile around, had won her heart, and the two were to have been married. The girl with her kindred had fled to the potato patch, and here, suffocations. stantially univjured.

The light of the new day revealed only the machinery of the horrid masterpiece. The red glare of the night had changed into the bleek dawn, and the dawn had changed into high noon before a belpful hand broke into the black Golgoths. The hurricane, even the blood-ourding shrieks of the sufferers drowned his voice. He tried by main force to test the hideous mass asunder, but the strength of a giant could not have broken the maddened of clutch of the wretched sufferers. The group was immovably fixed to the fats! spot, and rose from the burning sands fiery Logocon struggling with the coiling flames. Merrill, hastily fetching wetted blankets, threw them over the nearest sufferers, meantime shouting to them to break for the timber, not twestly steps awny. Uscless. It is a well-known fact to oil well operators that upon wells where as pumps are used, it is necessary to presert as nearly a per-set vacuum as possible, and that no air stou'd be let into the well at any time when it can possibly be avoided; consequently whenever the tubing is drawn from a well, it is the cause of great things to gened, the air immediately rushes back between the tubing and ensing into the well, going into the oil rock and gas veins, and consequently cousing the oil and gas to rush back to a great distance. It almost always takes several days after parating is resumed for a well to be brought back to its former condition, and oftentimes it takes several weeks, and quite frequently wells have been almost completely rained by the air being thus lot in white drawing tubing.

The Back Suction Freventivo is attached to the stuffing box, and works in such a way that it completely shut's up the space between the stuffing box and tubing so effectually that not a particle of air can get through at any time while the tubing is being dhiwn and replaced.

It supplies a want long felt, and is without question one of the most valuable inventions of the day to those engaged in the oil-producin business. No well should be without oce, as it offentimes saves ten time its cost by once using. FOREIGN FRUITS Which we are receiving in large quantities for the Wholesair Trade, such as Oranges,
